A company founded in 1893 in Courtételle, a village near Delémont in the Jura canton of Western Switzerland, Wenger can look back on a history dotted with a number of significant milestones. Building on its distinctive DNA composed of versatility and competence, the brand is now ready to write a new chapter with its intrinsic values of quality and reliability on both watches and travel gear. The extreme care for every detail and the consistent attention for customers are the keynotes of the brand, which is currently offering a wide range of Swiss Made watches inspired by style and precision.
